

Marotta-AV-chat

Ana Maria Gutierrez: Welcome!

Mike Marotta: Hello everybody! Looking forward to speaking with you today

Ana Maria Gutierrez: We'll be getting started in a few moments.

Ana Maria Gutierrez: Feel free to take a moment to intriduce yourself in the chat if you would like

Harold: Harold Campbell from sunny Tucson. Math Specialist

Susan: Sue Harlan, instructional design, Orange County CA

Ana Maria Gutierrez: Wishing we were in Tucson Harold. We're topping out at 35 degrewes her in DC today

Megan Patberg: Megan Patberg from ITEEA and NC State, Raleigh

Nancye Hart: Nancye Hart from ITEEA and NC

Carol Trautman: Carol Trautman from Texas Education Agency in Austin

guest: kent tamsen, Dir operations and technology, winfield public schools, KS

BryanA: Bryan Ayres, Accessibility Manager, Arkansas

Nanci: Nanci from MA

Judy Elliott: Judy from CT - we are a sunny 26 degrees

Lois M: Lois Michalek, MSC, Keeseville, NY

Cindy Yandle: Cindy Yandle here. I'm a Curriculum Coordinator for ITEEA STEM CTL. I'm in Raleigh, NC.

Shannon Locke: Shannon Locke Autism Resource Specialist for Missouri-DESE

Jackie Hess: An impressive group! It's good to see you, Bryan.

Johan de Besche: Johan de Besche, Project Coordinator for Let's Participate!, around Boston MA

Bridget: Hi all, Bridget from the Simon Technology Center in Minnesota!

Bridget: Hi Johan!

Nicole: @nlakusta from Stony Plain, Alberta, Canada

Marotta-AV-chat

BryanA: Good to be here Jackie! Hey Mike

Johan de Besche: Hi Bridget!

Gloria: Hello Gloria Ramirez here from Thompson Rivers Unviersity in Canada

Johan de Besche: And hi Jackie and Ana-Maria!

Bridget: is there sound?

Ana Maria Gutierrez: Hi Johan.!

Ana Maria Gutierrez: yes. there is sound

julie de barbeyrac: hi, Julie de Barbeyrac from UNICEF in NY- disability Section

Rosey McQuillan: no sound here

Alice Wershing, Pellissippi State Community College: Alice Wershing Knoxville TN

Joni Driscoll: OCS Biology Teacher - NC Virtual Public School

Johan de Besche: FYI sound working for me in listen only mode

Rosey McQuillan: I am good now thanks

Emelia A Simmon 2: Hi everyone! My name is Emelia Simmon from the ACCESS department at Miami Dade College Kendall campus.

Ana Maria Gutierrez: Is everyone able to hear?

Joni Driscoll: Yes

Kathleen Morris: Yes I can hear

Lois M: hearing via phone

Johan de Besche: Yes

Cindy Yandle: I can hear you.

Nicole: Yes

Kathy Higgins: Audio is intermittent.

julie de barbeyrac: yes

Kerri: I can hear

Marotta-AV-chat

Nanci: Yes, I can hear

Megan Patberg: yes

BryanA: Yes, computer sound

Emelia A Simmon 2: yes

Gloria: I am hearing, no problem

Deb B: Yes, I hear you I selected listen only feature

Jackie Hess: Audio is a little choppy.

Joanna Papadopoulos 2: Yes, thank you

Bridget: was trying to hear via computer with no success.. called in and now fine

Ana Maria Gutierrez: if you are having trouble over the computer. Try calling in:

Ana Maria Gutierrez: 1-866-668-0721 Conference Code: 3138 47 3091

Joanna Papadopoulos 2: Can we please receive a copy of these slides?

Ana Maria Gutierrez: We will be posting the slides and recording tomorrow and will send an email as soon as they are posted

Joanna Papadopoulos 2: Oh okay, thank you!

Alice Wershing, Pellissippi State Community College: Have you found tools for captioning podcasts?

Nicole: Our students also have access to public library cards so then access to audiobooks via Overdrive, Freeing make it feasible an inexpensive

Judy Elliott: we use Bookshare

BryanA: Real time captioning

Bridget: I've been exploring the Ava app for real time captioning.

Johan de Besche: If the podcast is a video on YouTube, it has automated captioning. Not perfect, but better than no access.

Bridget: <https://www.ava.me>

Joni Driscoll: I inserted my audio into a blank video, then uploaded to YouTube.

Marotta-AV-chat

Then used Auto-Captioning to get captioning and a transcript.

Bridget: and you have the ability to "fix" the captions so that spelling/grammar and timing are more appropriate. I frequently use it for short files.

Alice Wershing, Pellissippi State Community College:
<http://www.jod.id.au/tutorial/accessible-podcast.html> just found this when searching

Todd Fisk: New audio editing tool coming as well, you can read about it here:
<https://arstechnica.com/information-technology/2016/11/adobe-voco-photoshop-for-audio-speech-editing/>

Deb B: Great idea Joni.

Nicole: Luv using Read&Write for Google Chrome VoiceNote for audio comments that can be collaborative in nature

Todd Fisk: Demo video of VoCo here:
<https://www.ctdinstitute.org/library/2017-12-12/new-technology-voco-provides-audio-editing-your-keyboard>

Nicole: Yes, nice Joni!!

Joni Driscoll: :-)

Bridget: great idea Joni!

Kerri: Can use R&w to create more from text

Kerri: oops mp3

Joanna Papadopoulos 2: NVivo is good for interviews and transcriptions

BryanA: How about Google hangouts
<https://www.socialmediaexaminer.com/create-podcasts-with-google-hangouts-on-air/>

Nicole: Students can create their own books together within Book Creator and record their scripts while text may or may not be present.

Johan de Besche: And then there's all the apps that read text - usually marketed for ppl with visual disabilities

Johan de Besche: (to go the other direction...)

Nicole: Great story about the recording studio in class - what a fantasti leadership opportunity for that young man!

Deb B: I love audacity..use it all the time

Marotta-AV-chat

Joni Driscoll: It is the best!

Gloria: Deb, could you provide some examples of how you use Audacity?

KarenJanowski: That

KarenJanowski: That's cool - how are you using it with students?

Nicole: Audacity ideas: <https://opensource.com/education/16/9/audacity-classroom>

Kathy Higgins: Thanks for the link.

KarenJanowski: Hi Mike!!

Kerri: Is soundtrap an extension or website?

Alice Wershing, Pellissippi State Community College: We have some students who record their test answers. I export the completed audio file and send it to the instructor

Deb B: I have students create a multimedia presentation and add the audio track from audacity. I have students create a audio/mp3 to take tests instead of paper and pencil, I have students create digital stories and add audio

KarenJanowski: Love the potential - never heard of Soundtrap

KarenJanowski: always learn something new from Mike!

Gloria: Thanky ou Deb and Nicole for the ideas and examples on how to use Audacity

Gloria: And Alcie :)

Gloria: Alice

Deb B: Soundtrap is nice as you can collaborate from different places. However, I believe it is a subscription fee..but there is a trial version

Deb B: Oh ok ..thanks for the clarification

Nicole: Google Keep iOS app has a great recording function that also transcribes

Bridget: love Google Keep for list making.. love the flexibility and multiple features that it offers.

Deb B: never heard of google keep - is it an extension

Nicole: Google Keep - iOS app, online as keep.google.com and extension

Marotta-AV-chat

BryanA: So true Mike!

Nicole: So agree with you Mike! YouTube has many applications and opportunities for all our learners

Bridget: <https://www.google.com/keep/>

Kathy Higgins: Our school district allowed access to Teacher Tube first a few years ago and now we do have access to YouTube and it is wonderful to use the videos for video modeling for students who struggle with routines or social interactions.

Nicole: I remember the viewmaster too Mike! I also have the Virtual Reality view master sets at <https://www.vr-iphone.com/wp-content/uploads/2015/12/viewmastervr01.jpg>. These VR videos are SOOOO fantastic to immerse our students in experiences that may be impossible for them to visit. Talk about engagement! I've vetted all 700+ Google Expeditions for our Alberta curriculum and our teachers just are loving it (students faces are so lit up with excitement)!

Bridget: do you view the video with the google cardboard viewer?

KarenJanowski: Such an exciting time to be an educator! So many possibilities. How come so many teachers still use traditional (boring) methods?

Nicole: Yes Bridget you view the 360 video with GCardboard in GCardboard mode OR you can just view via an iPad or Android tablet and move the tablets around KarenJanowski: Just do it! Just start talking! Love it MIke!

Nicole: We had a teacher and students go on a mountain climbing field trip and used the Ricoh Theta. One student with complex physical needs couldn't physically attend, so when the students got back from the field trip the other student was also able to experience the field trip.

Ana Maria Gutierrez: Please note.....Users on the phone will not hear the video over the phone.. Here is a link to watch.....<https://youtu.be/yE5dAyMPYRI>

Nicole: Luv flipgrid!!

Nicole: Ah yes, students have no fear with flipgrid

Johan de Besche: Thinking about so many possibilities with Flipgrid!

KarenJanowski: Have to run - great ideas, Mike. See you tonight on #ATchat at 8:00

Gloria: Waht a wealth of ideas and resources. Thank you Mike and everyine else for offering valuable ideas and sharing he resources!

Marotta-AV-chat

Joanne Brustad: love Clips

Ana Maria Gutierrez: Once again.....Users on the phone will not hear the video over the phone.. Here is a link to watch.....<https://youtu.be/tBXoxwXoong>

Gloria: So is clip an app for andrid devices?

Nicole: iOS

Joni Driscoll: Wow, can't wait to play with all these resources!

Jenifer Randle: Clips Maker for android? Or different than Clips?

Bridget: agreed Joni.. I've learned a lot and have many new things to try out and add to my AT toolkit!

Nicole: Adobe Spark Video - online tool, does the same thing as 30Hands. Teacher must sign in.

Nicole: Green screen is awesome! So many applications at different grades and subject areas. Great examples Mike!

Nicole: My absolute fav is the snowball mic

Jenifer Randle: omg. I want a snowball

Casey: me too!

Jenifer Randle: and a Qball...

Nicole: Ohhhhh a Pop-up Pod.... too cool

Jenifer Randle: my boss is going to get a wish list soon

Jenifer Randle: LOL - :)

Jenifer Randle: the qball... doesit need to connect to another speaker? can it connect to a bluetooth speaker?

Kathy Higgins: Great ideas thank you so much. I am an SLP and my husband is a spanish teacher. Sharing ideas with him tonight at dinner !!

Nicole: Thanks Mike - great tools and resources!

Deb B: I would like a transcript of all the participants comments and ideas

Johan de Besche: Yes!

Marotta-AV-chat

Ana Maria Gutierrez: Yes. We will compile a list of resources that were shared

Ana Maria Gutierrez: www.surveymonkey.com/s/CTDCafeEvents

Paula Kaplan: Thank you, ALL!

Johan de Besche: Thanks Mike and all!

Joni Driscoll: This has been SO useful! Thanks!!

Joanne Brustad: thanks

BryanA: Outstanding job, enjoyed Mike!

Jenifer Randle: Awesome. This is great!

Kathy Higgins: Thank you so much.

Kerri: thanks so much!!

Casey: survey isn't working

JD: awesome

Paula Kaplan: Survey Monkey is not available.

Ana Maria Gutierrez: Thanks everyone for joining!

Casey: thank you!

Ana Maria Gutierrez: Great webinar Mike!

andrea: Cant access survey monkey

Bridget: great webinar Mike!

Mindy Baird: survey?

Jerry: great stuff!! Thanks Mike!

Paula Kaplan: Says it is doing maintenance right now

Bridget: survey monkey has been having problems ALL DAY!

Gloria: Excellent webinar! Thanks!

Mike Marotta: thanks everyone!

Marotta-AV-chat

Emelia A Simmon 2: AWESOME!!!

Bridget: I would suggest sending the link out later when their issue is resolved!

Gloria: It was worth every second of it!

Mindy Baird: survey still saying, an't be found

Bridget: I've been following their updates on Twitter :-)

Ana Maria Gutierrez: Sorry. Survey monkey says its doing scheduled maintenance

Ana Maria Gutierrez: We will make sure to include the link to the survey in tomorrows email

Mindy Baird: thank you!